

WILDBASE JUNIORS PROGRAMME AT CENTRAL ENERGY TRUST WILDBASE RECOVERY

CENTRAL ENERGY TRUST

WITH MASSEY UNIVERSITY
AND PALMERSTON NORTH
CITY COUNCIL

INFORMATION AND REGISTRATION FORM

We are so pleased your tamariki are interested in learning more about native birds with us at Central Energy Trust Wildbase Recovery!

Our Wildbase Juniors Programme is for children aged 5 to 15 years old, who are interested in learning about New Zealand's native birds, conservation and how they can help protect this.

To register for our Wildbase Juniors programme, please complete this form and drop it in to the centre or email it to educator@wildbaserecovery.co.nz

The programme runs for a few hours each school holidays. It is split into two sessions over two days by age. One session for 5 to 9 year olds and one session for 10 to 15 year olds. Siblings can attend one session together if they wish.

MORE ABOUT US

Central Energy Trust Wildbase Recovery is a world class rehabilitation centre for native wildlife recovering from illness or injury. The centre provides shelter and care to a range of native wildlife during their recovery after treatment at Massey University's Wildbase Hospital.

The centre is made up of fourteen specially designed rehabilitation aviaries for patients, a walkthrough aviary housing tuatara and a variety of resident native birds, two breeding aviaries for the endangered whio (blue duck) and pāteke (brown teal), and the Powerco Education Centre.

Every animal at Central Energy Trust Wildbase Recovery is an ambassador for their species and the perils facing them in the wild.

We provide the community with a conservation education experience like no other. Locals, visitors, schools and community organisations have the opportunity to see conservation in action - and learn how they can make a difference to the future of New Zealand's native wildlife.
